

Copyright on ScrEad

ScrEad is a content distribution platform that uses AI recommendation algorithms to deliver news and media to users based on their interests, which means ScrEad helps creators like yourself distribute content to target users and potential followers.

On ScrEad, content creators reserve the copyright to the work they created and published. We have absolute respect for creators and their content, and are committed to helping creators protect their copyrighted content.

Part 1

We've set up QuantumData Content Fingerprint System for copyright owners to easily identify and track their copyrighted content on ScrEad.

1. Content uploaded to ScrEad is matched against a database of existing content published by copyright owners, to ensure that if copyrighted content is adopted in a certain upload without previous permission, the upload is allowed under fair use. If not, the uploader will receive a copyright infringement notice regarding their content, and a separate notice will be sent to the copyright owner to inform them of the infringement. The copyright owner may then choose to take actions such as requesting to remove the video from ScrEad, or receiving revenues generated through the copyrighted video in replacement of the unauthorized uploader.
2. Copyright owners can also submit a copyright infringement complaint on their own through QuantumData Content Fingerprint System, and report content they believe to have violated their copyright.

Part 2

For copyright-related issues, we use "Copyright Status" for your account to show your track record. Each account starts with 3 points for their Copyright Status. Once a valid copyright infringement report is processed, certain copyright points will be deducted from the offending account, depending on the severity of the infringement. Deducted points cannot be restored, and an account will be banned if its copyright points drop to zero.

Part 3

We respect the intellectual property of others and expect you to do the same. Upon receipt of a proper copyright infringement complaint alleging a violation of a U.S. copyright, we will respond according to the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA). We are committed to complying with copyright law in the United States, as well as international trade law and practices.

If you believe that someone has infringed on your copyright, please click the button below to file a copyright infringement complaint.

Submit copyright infringement complaint